

Integrity First, Service Before Self, & Excellence in All We Do.

Since 2005, Acuity Healthcare specialty hospitals has been setting the standard of care in the industry.

Our two New Jersey hospitals are easily accessible and patients are referred to us from all over the United States.

- Acuity Specialty Hospital of New Jersey (AHNJ), a 30-bed LTACH operating within AtlantiCare Regional Medical Center's Atlantic City Campus
- Acuity Specialty Hospital of Southern New Jersey (ASHNJ), a 69-bed LTACH located on the campus of Lourdes Medical Center in Burlington County, New Jersey

In the Delaware Valley, 35 community and tertiary for care hospitals choose AHNJ and ASHSNJ for extended hospitalization and continuity of care. We accept referrals from hospitals, rehabilitative and skilled nursing facilities, clinicians and families. Our hospitals are Medicare certified and accept most insurance plans.

To make a referral, please contact the Admissions Department and a Clinical Liaison will perform an onsite evaluation to assess for appropriateness of admission.

Your Premier Specialty Hospitals

Excellence in Clinical Outcomes

Superior Care For You & Your Loved Ones

Interdisciplinary Teams & Physician Specialists

At Acuity Healthcare specialty hospitals we treat some of the most complex medical conditions in healthcare today. Our hospitals are 100% employee owned and set the standard of care in the industry. Clinical outcomes are among the nation's best for ventilator weaning and complex wound healing.

Staffed with highly skilled physicians and clinicians, our hospitals are specifically designed to provide intensive care to ventilator dependent patients and those with extensive non-healing wounds, infections, system failures or complications from surgery.

We believe in a culture of quality and offer a safe environment where all patients, families and visitors are treated with the utmost respect and dignity. We treat your family as our family.
